management talent exchange program

What is MTEP?

MTEP is a three-month exchange program designed to accelerate professional development for local government leaders. Selected program participants are placed in another agency to acquire new experiences, competencies, and relationships doing managerial project-based work in a functional area different from their own.

How does it work?

Applicants for the program must submit a completed application, be recommended by their organization and be selected as a participant by the MTEP placement committee. Applications will be reviewed and matched with prospective exchange opportunities. Sending agencies and host agencies pay only $1000 per participant.

Who is eligible?

Star performers with potential to move into senior management positions are encouraged to apply. The program is particularly geared towards Management Analysts, Program Managers, & Professional Staff, although any staff member may apply.
